"Unlocking" Ready-Made Games

In general, Clients who select Ready-Made Games leave them in their "Locked" states. This enables Forecaster Games staff members to make remote adjustments to Timeline, Gameplay, or Picks settings if necessary.

In situations where you'd like to customize the game in a way that our staff would not, then you may want to "Unlock" one or more of these sections, which then simultaneously:

- Enables you to make changes to Timelines, Gameplay, or Picks.
- Prevents Forecaster Games staff members from making further remote changes.

As you customize and manage your game, you'll find lots of Info Icons that provide more documentation on each feature.

Contact our Support Team with additional questions! Just click SUPPORT, found in the Account menu in the top-right corner.

Types of Ready-Made Games "Locks"

There are five types of Locks in a Ready-Made Game, accessed in two sections:

- Timeline Locks:
 - Registration Lock
 - Overall Game Period Lock
 - Individual Game Period Locks (one per Period)
 - These locks control both the Date-and-Time settings for the Game Period, as well as the Picks settings for that particular Game Period.
- Gameplay Locks:
 - Settings Lock
 - Scoring System Lock

As you customize and manage your game, you'll find lots of Info Icons that provide more documentation on each feature.

New Custom Game

If instead of using our Ready-Made Games, you'd like to build your own game from scratch, click "Create New Custom Game".

- Identify your Game Topic(s): which sports leagues, for example, or which entertainment events your game is about.
- Identify your Game Type(s):
 - Pick'em: Participants try to pick the winners for sporting events, entertainment, elections, and more.
 - Fantasy: Participants try to pick who will perform best on the field, and manage their own fantasy team.
 - Quiz'em: Set up your own questions and answers, covering whatever topic you'd like. Ask any questions that your participants will have fun trying to predict the answer for!
 - Multiple-choice, checkbox, short-answer questions
 - Remember that you'll have to go back to this section and fill in all the correct answers, once they are known.
 - Rank'em: Participants rearrange all the potential answers to predict their eventual order
 - Great for all sorts of games, as well as for marketing-related questionnaires!
 - Bracket: Participants choose the winners of a bracket-style tournament
 - Great for March college basketball tournaments, and more! Custom bracket showdowns can also be created.

As you customize and manage your game, you'll find lots of Info Icons that provide more documentation on each feature.

Custom Game Timelines

One early step when creating a New Game is to map out the Timelines:

- Each Game Period within the game can use its own Topic and Type, but most commonly, an entire game is devoted to just one Topic and Type.
- For each Game Period, you can configure:
 - Pick Period: When game participants are allowed to make their selections
 - Scoring Period: When the real-world activities (such as sporting events, awards ceremonies, etc.) are taking place that your participants are making their picks for.

Besides configuring the Timelines, you'll want to go through the rest of the customizations discussed above for Ready-Made Games.

You'll also want to configure your Gameplay and Picks options.

As you customize and manage your game, you'll find lots of Info Icons that provide more documentation on each feature.
